

LOADING THE RELIEF TRAIN.

"World" Readers' Gifts Will Start for the South To-Morrow.

Splendid Benefit Entertainment to Be Given To-Day.

Unless something now unforeseen happens "The World" relief train, with supplies of clothing, provisions and medicine for the cyclone victims and yellow fever sufferers at the South will leave Jersey City to-morrow afternoon. By the middle of next week the gifts which were generally sent by "World" will be distributed among the names who are in so great need, the bare necessities of life.

is the last day for receiving consignments, so that those who have anything to add to the general stock should their gifts at once. Everything is at hand before to-night, when the freight-car will be loaded and sealed, and the train reaches its destination.

packages of clothing were received yesterday, together with gifts which will be devoted to the wants of groceries and provisions, so much needed by the people stricken districts. Many collections have been made, which is taken in at the grand performance to be given at 2 p.m. this afternoon at the Imperial Hall, Broadway and Eighth street, and will be added to the fund.

The fleet of ferry-boats on the North and East Rivers slowly and cautiously picked their way, and until nearly 8 o'clock the fog had generally disappeared, although there were small banks on the lower bay.

It was rumored in the Battery this morning that Staten Island ferry-boat Southend spent nearly half an hour on its 7 o'clock trip from St. George trying to find its slip. The vessel's pilot refused to report, run up to the slip.

Another report, that could not be confirmed, said the boat from Staten Island had bumped into Ellis Island instead of Whitehall street during the fog. It was alleged that several passengers, ruined from the boat which is due to arrive this evening.

Mrs. Pratt, sr., has decided to lease or sell, if possible, her palatial residence on Whitney avenue, and remove from this at once.

Two Bureurs Held.

Joseph Fanning, Mrs. James Evans, and John McMahen, alias Lambert, the two principal ringleaders of Pottersburgh while trying to gather entrance into 1166 Broadway, were held for examination in the Jefferson Market Court to-day.

MAY SUE FOR DIVORCE.

side of Mrs. Blosse Reveals a user Matrimonial Complication.

a sequel to the self-destruction of Eva Lynch-Blosse in London, and revelation of her husband's double

Mrs. Nellie Temple Bowen Lynch-losse is likely to seek a divorce from Cappy Edward Falconer Lynch-Blosse, the Royal Horse Guards, and aide-de-camp to H. R. H. Prince of Wales.

Mrs. Nellie Temple Bowen, who had been divorced from Bowen, met Capt. Lynch-Blosse in 1881, while she was living with her mother at a New York hotel. His suit was persistent, and they were married at Holy Trinity, Oct. 21.

They lived for a time at the Adams House, Boston, and at the Metropolitan. Then they lived at Sharon, Mass. They had trouble over an alleged valueless check, given by "Cappy" to a hotel-keeper.

Mrs. Nellie says she sold her jewels for $1,500 to "square" the matter, but her mother, on whom they had lived for seven weeks, would stand it no longer, and insisted that the Captain should do something towards the support of his wife.

The spunky bride left him. He followed her to New York and threatened to do something awful if she didn't return to him, but finally concluded to leave. He has been in Canada since.

Mrs. Nellie did not know of the former marriage, and was shocked.

The suicide of Mrs. Eva revealed it all.

Mrs. Eva got her divorce at Sioux Falls, S.D., on proof that the Captain had married another woman, a daughter of Gen. Charles Edward Price Gordon, for which the Baron got a divorce in January, 1890, in Scotland.

Mrs. Eva, married an Englishman and came to New York, moved to London and terminated her second unhappy marriage by suicide.

EX-CLERK TURNS BURGLAR.

Barnabas Had a Duplicate Key to the Drug Store.

Leroy Barnabas, twenty-two years old, of 11 West Sixty-first street, was held in the Bronxville Police Court this morning.

He was formerly a clerk in the drug-store of Kirby & Maloy, Fifty-eighth street and Ninth avenue, but was dismissed because suspected of theft.

Since he left the store he has been entered several times and valuable merchandise stolen.

Ernest Zeigler was compelled to sleep in the store. Early yesterday morning he heard some one in the place. He found a loaded pistol, and recognized Barnabas as the intruder, and grappled with him, at the same time yelling for the police.

Barnabas broke away, but was subsequently arrested. The ex-clerk had a duplicate key to the store.

THE PRATT ALIENATION SUIT.

Effort to Settle It—Mrs. Pratt, Sr., to Leave New Haven.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 3.—It is given out here that a meeting of the Pratt family has been held, and that the $50,000 sum brought by Mrs. Charles E. Pratt, Jr., against her husband's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth F. Pratt, for alienation of her husband's affections will probably be settled within a few days.

It is stated that Charles Pratt has been making every effort to settle the case, and gain a release from his wife, who still abides by her claims. The other party is determined to litigate.

Mrs. Pratt, sr., has decided to lease or sell, if possible, her palatial residence on Whitney avenue, and remove from this at once.

Another report, that could not be confirmed, said the boat from Staten Island had bumped into Ellis Island instead of Whitehall street during the fog. It was alleged that several passengers, ruined from the boat which is due to arrive this evening.

The shippers this morning were also due to the coming of the chilly Westerner, and if Observer Dunn is to be believed, cloudy and unsettled weather will prevail all day. With the cold weather to-morrow there is expected to be a cool spell as well, and this bracing condition should last over Sunday.

Over the last night and Otto Verner and his family are failing and this atmospheric condition has reached the New England States. There is a belt of warm air extending along the Atlantic coast, with a minimum temperature ranging from 40 to 60 degrees. The country west of the Alleghenies is much cooler, and the country is free from snow and storm. When the arrival of the cold wave the temperature will drop from 15 to 25 degrees.

Horsewhipped the Painter.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—William Venable, one of the owners of the Stone Mountain Granite quarry, horsewhipped G. D. Woodward, a prominent job printer, yesterday. Venable went to Woodward's office, on Alabama street, locked the door, and, after a short struggle, got hold of the whip. He accused Woodward of having referred to him as a thief. Woodward denied it. Woodward was set in a bad condition. His feet were about to give way from the effects of the drought.

Probable Suicide by a Train.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Nov. 3.—An east-bound train on the Southern Pacific yesterday struck and killed J. H. Coombs, a prominent stockman of San Antonio, near the Rio Grande. Mr. Coombs had an extensive range. It is said to be a case of suicide, and the deceased had been very suspicious for several weeks about heavy losses of cattle from the effects of the drought.

Branch offices of The World above 125th st. at which advertisements may be placed.

125th st., East, 69, 2157, 2208, 23rd st., West, 320, 3rd st., and Lenox ave., 2902, 2426, 2477, 2802, 10th ave., near 138th st., East, 631.

Open every day until 10 P.M. Advertisements for The World received here at regular rates.

Branch offices of The World above 125th st. at which advertisements may be placed.

125th st., East, 69, 2157, 2208, 23rd st., 34th st., 2426, 2477, 2802, 10th ave., near 138th st., East, 631.

Probable Suicide by a Train.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—William Venable, one of the owners of the Stone Mountain Granite quarry, horsewhipped G. D. Woodward, a prominent job printer, yesterday. Venable went to Woodward's office, on Alabama street, locked the door, and, after a short struggle, got hold of the whip. He accused Woodward of having referred to him as a thief. Woodward denied it. Woodward was set in a bad condition. His feet were about to give way from the effects of the drought.

Probable Suicide by a Train.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—An east-bound train on the Southern Pacific yesterday struck and killed J. H. Coombs, a prominent stockman of San Antonio, near the Rio Grande. Mr. Coombs had an extensive range. It is said to be a case of suicide, and the deceased had been very suspicious for several weeks about heavy losses of cattle from the effects of the drought.

Probable Suicide by a Train.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—An east-bound train on the Southern Pacific yesterday struck and killed J. H. Coombs, a prominent stockman of San Antonio, near the Rio Grande. Mr. Coombs had an extensive range. It is said to be a case of suicide, and the deceased had been very suspicious for several weeks about heavy losses of cattle from the effects of the drought.

Probable Suicide by a Train.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—An east-bound train on the Southern Pacific yesterday struck and killed J. H. Coombs, a prominent stockman of San Antonio, near the Rio Grande. Mr. Coombs had an extensive range. It is said to be a case of suicide, and the deceased had been very suspicious for several weeks about heavy losses of cattle from the effects of the drought.

Probable Suicide by a Train.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—An east-bound train on the Southern Pacific yesterday struck and killed J. H. Coombs, a prominent stockman of San Antonio, near the Rio Grande. Mr. Coombs had an extensive range. It is said to be a case of suicide, and the deceased had been very suspicious for several weeks about heavy losses of cattle from the effects of the drought.

Probable Suicide by a Train.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—An east-bound train on the Southern Pacific yesterday struck and killed J. H. Coombs, a prominent stockman of San Antonio, near the Rio Grande. Mr. Coombs had an extensive range. It is said to be a case of suicide, and the deceased had been very suspicious for several weeks about heavy losses of cattle from the effects of the drought.

Probable Suicide by a Train.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—An east-bound train on the Southern Pacific yesterday struck and killed J. H. Coombs, a prominent stockman of San Antonio, near the Rio Grande. Mr. Coombs had an extensive range. It is said to be a case of suicide, and the deceased had been very suspicious for several weeks about heavy losses of cattle from the effects of the drought.

Probable Suicide by a Train.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—An east-bound train on the Southern Pacific yesterday struck and killed J. H. Coombs, a prominent stockman of San Antonio, near the Rio Grande. Mr. Coombs had an extensive range. It is said to be a case of suicide, and the deceased had been very suspicious for several weeks about heavy losses of cattle from the effects of the drought.

Probable Suicide by a Train.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—An east-bound train on the Southern Pacific yesterday struck and killed J. H. Coombs, a prominent stockman of San Antonio, near the Rio Grande. Mr. Coombs had an extensive range. It is said to be a case of suicide, and the deceased had been very suspicious for several weeks about heavy losses of cattle from the effects of the drought.

Probable Suicide by a Train.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—An east-bound train on the Southern Pacific yesterday struck and killed J. H. Coombs, a prominent stockman of San Antonio, near the Rio Grande. Mr. Coombs had an extensive range. It is said to be a case of suicide, and the deceased had been very suspicious for several weeks about heavy losses of cattle from the effects of the drought.

Probable Suicide by a Train.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—An east-bound train on the Southern Pacific yesterday struck and killed J. H. Coombs, a prominent stockman of San Antonio, near the Rio Grande. Mr. Coombs had an extensive range. It is said to be a case of suicide, and the deceased had been very suspicious for several weeks about heavy losses of cattle from the effects of the drought.

Probable Suicide by a Train.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—An east-bound train on the Southern Pacific yesterday struck and killed J. H. Coombs, a prominent stockman of San Antonio, near the Rio Grande. Mr. Coombs had an extensive range. It is said to be a case of suicide, and the deceased had been very suspicious for several weeks about heavy losses of cattle from the effects of the drought.

Probable Suicide by a Train.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—An east-bound train on the Southern Pacific yesterday struck and killed J. H. Coombs, a prominent stockman of San Antonio, near the Rio Grande. Mr. Coombs had an extensive range. It is said to be a case of suicide, and the deceased had been very suspicious for several weeks about heavy losses of cattle from the effects of the drought.

Probable Suicide by a Train.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—An east-bound train on the Southern Pacific yesterday struck and killed J. H. Coombs, a prominent stockman of San Antonio, near the Rio Grande. Mr. Coombs had an extensive range. It is said to be a case of suicide, and the deceased had been very suspicious for several weeks about heavy losses of cattle from the effects of the drought.

Probable Suicide by a Train.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—An east-bound train on the Southern Pacific yesterday struck and killed J. H. Coombs, a prominent stockman of San Antonio, near the Rio Grande. Mr. Coombs had an extensive range. It is said to be a case of suicide, and the deceased had been very suspicious for several weeks about heavy losses of cattle from the effects of the drought.

Probable Suicide by a Train.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—An east-bound train on the Southern Pacific yesterday struck and killed J. H. Coombs, a prominent stockman of San Antonio, near the Rio Grande. Mr. Coombs had an extensive range. It is said to be a case of suicide, and the deceased had been very suspicious for several weeks about heavy losses of cattle from the effects of the drought.

Probable Suicide by a Train.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—An east-bound train on the Southern Pacific yesterday struck and killed J. H. Coombs, a prominent stockman of San Antonio, near the Rio Grande. Mr. Coombs had an extensive range. It is said to be a case of suicide, and the deceased had been very suspicious for several weeks about heavy losses of cattle from the effects of the drought.

Probable Suicide by a Train.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—An east-bound train on the Southern Pacific yesterday struck and killed J. H. Coombs, a prominent stockman of San Antonio, near the Rio Grande. Mr. Coombs had an extensive range. It is said to be a case of suicide, and the deceased had been very suspicious for several weeks about heavy losses of cattle from the effects of the drought.

Probable Suicide by a Train.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—An east-bound train on the Southern Pacific yesterday struck and killed J. H. Coombs, a prominent stockman of San Antonio, near the Rio Grande. Mr. Coombs had an extensive range. It is said to be a case of suicide, and the deceased had been very suspicious for several weeks about heavy losses of cattle from the effects of the drought.

Probable Suicide by a Train.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—An east-bound train on the Southern Pacific yesterday struck and killed J. H. Coombs, a prominent stockman of San Antonio, near the Rio Grande. Mr. Coombs had an extensive range. It is said to be a case of suicide, and the deceased had been very suspicious for several weeks about heavy losses of cattle from the effects of the drought.

Probable Suicide by a Train.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—An east-bound train on the Southern Pacific yesterday struck and killed J. H. Coombs, a prominent stockman of San Antonio, near the Rio Grande. Mr. Coombs had an extensive range. It is said to be a case of suicide, and the deceased had been very suspicious for several weeks about heavy losses of cattle from the effects of the drought.

Probable Suicide by a Train.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—An east-bound train on the Southern Pacific yesterday struck and killed J. H. Coombs, a prominent stockman of San Antonio, near the Rio Grande. Mr. Coombs had an extensive range. It is said to be a case of suicide, and the deceased had been very suspicious for several weeks about heavy losses of cattle from the effects of the drought.

Probable Suicide by a Train.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—An east-bound train on the Southern Pacific yesterday struck and killed J. H. Coombs, a prominent stockman of San Antonio, near the Rio Grande. Mr. Coombs had an extensive range. It is said to be a case of suicide, and the deceased had been very suspicious for several weeks about heavy losses of cattle from the effects of the drought.

Probable Suicide by a Train.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—An east-bound train on the Southern Pacific yesterday struck and killed J. H. Coombs, a prominent stockman of San Antonio, near the Rio Grande. Mr. Coombs had an extensive range. It is said to be a case of suicide, and the deceased had been very suspicious for several weeks about heavy losses of cattle from the effects of the drought.

Probable Suicide by a Train.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—An east-bound train on the Southern Pacific yesterday struck and killed J. H. Coombs, a prominent stockman of San Antonio, near the Rio Grande. Mr. Coombs had an extensive range. It is said to be a case of suicide, and the deceased had been very suspicious for several weeks about heavy losses of cattle from the effects of the drought.

Probable Suicide by a Train.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—An east-bound train on the Southern Pacific yesterday struck and killed J. H. Coombs, a prominent stockman of San Antonio, near the Rio Grande. Mr. Coombs had an extensive range. It is said to be a case of suicide, and the deceased had been very suspicious for several weeks about heavy losses of cattle from the effects of the drought.

Probable Suicide by a Train.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—An east-bound train on the Southern Pacific yesterday struck and killed J. H. Coombs, a prominent stockman of San Antonio, near